

Academy of Prosthodontics

91st Annual Scientific Session

Chicago, Illinois

April 29 - May 3, 2009

Join us in Chicago!

Dr. Stephen D. Campbell
President

The Academy of Prosthodontics was established in 1918. We founded the American Board of Prosthodontics, co-founded the Journal of Prosthetic Dentistry, started an Education and Research foundation with a long history of grant giving, developed the Principles, Practices and Concepts of Prosthodontics, developed, and continue to revise, the Glossary of Prosthodontic Terms. We run an ADA Award winning Outreach program, and we initiated the incentive to bring EBM to dentistry and incorporate it into our programs.

The 2009 meeting will be our 91st Annual Scientific Session. In addition to the scientific sessions held each morning, there are a number of meetings for the membership and a variety of social events. The social events are a special part of the annual meeting that promote fellowship and interchange between members, speakers, and guests.

Featured Speakers

Our 2009 meeting features twenty world renowned speakers -- experts in the fields of prosthodontics, implant dentistry, and materials science. The conference is unique in its format as formal essays are presented on current topics. Each essay is then followed by a discussion of the paper by an Academy Fellow and questions from the floor. This creates an incredible interchange and a thought-provoking environment.

The host city is Chicago, Illinois, with all of its culture, nightlife, sports, museums and restaurants. The four-day conference allows ample time for fellowship and interaction between the speakers, fellows and guests through the unique program format and planned social gatherings that are part of the meeting. We hope you will join us in Chicago and sample this unique environment and program for yourself.

NobelActive™

A new direction for implants.

Dual-function prosthetic connection

Bone-condensing property

Adjustable implant orientation for optimal final placement

Built-in platform shifting

High initial stability, even in compromised bone situations

NobelActive™ equally satisfies surgical and restorative clinical goals. NobelActive™ thread design progressively condenses bone with each turn during insertion, which is designed to enhance initial stability. The sharp apex and cutting blades allow surgical clinicians to adjust implant orientation for optimal positioning of the prosthetic connection. Restorative clinicians benefit by a versatile and secure internal conical prosthetic connection with built-in platform shifting upon which they can produce excellent esthetic results. Based on customer feedback and market demands for NobelActive™, the product assortment has been expanded – dental professionals will now enjoy even greater flexibility in prosthetic and implant selection. Nobel Biocare is the world leader in innovative evidence-based dental solutions. For more information, contact a Nobel Biocare Representative at 800 322 5001 or visit our website.
